American Board of Veterinary Toxicology (ABVT) Releases Profiles Series Documentary

LEWISVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA - The ABVT announces the release of a televised video documentary describing the objectives of the ABVT and its positive impact as an organization on veterinary medicine, toxicology, and human health in the 21st century.

The video will air on a variety of major cable networks (such as CNBC and Bravo) as educational programming. It will also air in national syndication on the US Government's Voice of America Television. The future broadcast schedule is currently in production. The video can be seen now on the ABVT website at <http://www.abvt.org/public/video>.

ABOUT THE ABVT

The American Board of Veterinary Toxicology (ABVT) is an internationally recognized certifying body for veterinarians that demonstrate broad knowledge and expertise in many aspects of toxicology. ABVT is one of twenty specialty organizations of the American Veterinary Medical Association, established in 1967. The combination of veterinary training and expertise in toxicology has made Diplomates of the ABVT unique and highly effective in a variety of careers. ABVT Diplomates play important roles in ensuring animal, human, and environmental health around the world. The Diplomates also strive to inform and educate the public, private practice veterinarians and veterinary medical students about the toxicological hazards to pets, livestock and wildlife. More information about the ABVT can be found at <http://www.abvt.org>.
